The Buffet Lunch and Conversazione will further enhance opportunities to exchange and influence ideas about developments and innovations.

Rehabilitation services cover audiology, community equipment, electronic assistive technology, orthotics, prosthetics and wheelchairs and their associated products. The total spend exceeds £250 million per annum. All related supply markets directly impact on the quality of service provided to patients and users of the NHS, and contracts may consist of the supply of products, services or both, including complex provision of clinical and professional staff.

Rehabilitation services within the NHS and Community Services have attracted much political and media interest in recent years. This has been driven by a number of factors including: Ministerial initiatives; Audit Commission reports; Delivering the NHS Plan; National Service Frameworks; Healthcare Industries Task Force; Reforming financial flows; Training and retention of Allied Health Professionals; Increasing requirements for patients to influence the Commissioning of services by Primary Care Trusts; and the overview of Strategic Health Authorities.
